Bachelor of Science in Nursing – Maui Health System Pathway

For UH Maui College ADN Consortium Graduates Hired by Maui Health System

Program Description

The Bachelor of Science (BS) in Nursing program for associate degree nursing (ADN) graduates is a statewide consortium nursing curriculum available to UH students from Maui College, Kauai Community College, and Kapiolani Community College.

Beginning in May 2018, UHM Nursing is offering a pathway that supports UH Maui College ADN graduates to work at Maui Health Systems while continuing their studies to achieve the BS degree. The ADN to BS 30 credit curriculum is offered over four semesters including two summers. AD graduates begin Manoa courses in the summer (May) following graduation and complete their studies in 14 months.
