Online RN to Bachelor of Science in Nursing

For Associate Degree and Diploma Graduates

In response to changing workforce demands, the UH Manoa Nancy Atmospera-Walch School of Nursing has created a new Online RN to BS program for associate degree in nursing and diploma graduates. UH Community College Nursing Consortium students and graduates from non-UH systems apply to the new Online RN to BS program that enrolls in fall (August) and spring (January). Graduates from non-UH System campuses have different requirements from UH graduates. UH System graduates are not required to have the RN license to begin the program.

Program Description

The Bachelor of Science in Nursing program for associate degree (ADN) and diplomas in nursing graduates is a statewide continuing consortium nursing curriculum available to UH students from Maui College, Kauai Community College, and Kapiolani Community College. The program is available to Hawaii Community College and non-UH systems ADN graduates. The program is designed to provide an efficient bridge to the baccalaureate for the associate degree graduate. The program builds upon initial nursing preparation with coursework to enhance professional development, prepare for a broader scope of practice, and provide an increased understanding of the cultural, economic, and social issues that affect the delivery of safe, quality patient care.

The 30-credit nursing curriculum provides flexibility and can be completed in 2 or more semesters – both part-time and full-time routes are available. UH Manoa requires a student to complete 30 credits at Manoa to be awarded the BS degree.

Students take asynchronous online lecture courses while balancing work and family responsibilities. Worksite cohorts can be created in partnership with local healthcare organizations and agencies interested in increasing the number of BS prepared nurses delivering direct patient care.

Specific licensure requirements for admission are listed below.

Transcript Review

A free, unofficial transcript review by a student advisor is available to prospective students to determine the possible length of study. The transcript review is unofficial and is offered as a guidance tool for prospective students. Evaluation of transfer credits occurs once the student has been accepted for admissions and has submitted the tuition deposit along with statement of intention to enroll and provided all official transcripts to the UH Manoa Office of Admissions. UH Manoa will only accept credits from institutions fully accredited by U.S. regional accrediting associations.

Upon admission, the program advisor does a personalized review of completed college coursework to develop the plan for program completion. If a student’s previous ADN or college coursework does not meet the minimum requirements, additional courses may be required to meet the 120 credits UH Manoa requirement for the BS degree. For more information about credits, visit the Curriculum page.

Fast Facts

- Two-step application process
- Admission in January (Spring) and August (Fall)
Individual academic advising and support throughout the program
- Asynchronous, online format for lecture courses
- Two in-person clinical labs
- Full-time and part-time options
- Experiential learning portfolio credit option available

Experiential Learning Portfolio for Credit

The admitted student with RN experience may request to receive nursing coursework credit by submitting an electronic Experiential Learning Portfolio. The portfolio is a collection of descriptions and material that provide direct evidence of an individual’s learning, mastery, or accomplishments over time. The descriptions and exemplars may be drawn from an individual’s job and academic related experiences.
