Nursing – Graduate Program Overview

University of Hawaii at Manoa (UHM) Nancy Atmospera-Walch School of Nursing (NAWSON) offers the Master’s of Science (MS) and Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) to prepare professional nurses with advanced knowledge, practice, and skills to enter the workforce. University of Hawaii at Manoa nurses with advanced graduate preparation provide care throughout the lifespan with diverse populations and communities in a variety of settings (hospital, non-profit organizations, government, universities, health systems). They are prepared to become leaders in research, practice, education, policy & public health, and multi-level health systems in Hawaii, the US, and the international and global community.

Graduate nursing courses are offered in online, face-to-face, and hybrid (blended) formats.
