Nursing Student Resources

Nursing Student Handbook

The Department of Nursing student handbook is updated annually. The student handbook contains important information including campus resources, academic information, key policies and procedures (i.e. grading policies & progression procedures), graduation information, and professional organization information. Students entering the nursing program use the handbook published on the year of admission throughout their nursing program.

College-Level Exam Program Option

College-Level Exam Program (CLEP) exams are a viable option for satisfying course requirements of the Bachelor of Science in nursing programs. Applicants to and students of a SONDH undergraduate nursing program must consult with a SONDH Office of Students Services advisor regarding the use and limitations of non-graded course equivalencies to meet current graduation requirements. Students who successfully pass a CLEP exam will be awarded college credit toward a Bachelor of Science in nursing degree and, therefore, will not need to take the respective required coursework. To schedule an appointment to discuss this option, please contact:
