

Partnerships

UH Manoa Nursing is committed to the promotion and development of research partnerships. The School focuses on creating mechanisms to coordinate research projects and activities across academic nursing and community partners. The School has three on-going joint research programs between academic nursing and health system nurse-scientists. These partnerships expand nursing faculty development and recruitment to include PhD investigators across multiple disciplines in targeted research areas.